

Over R33 million in winnings at Montecasino in six months

Winning has again been the name of the game at Montecasino in the past six months. Players have taken home a total of R33 million worth of cash and prizes with much more in the pipeline in 2012.

“Montecasino is all about entertainment, but there's no getting away from the tremendous fun of winning something tangible at the game or tournament you've chosen to play in the casino,” says Steve Howell, General Manager of Montecasino. “That's why we make sure there are always promotions and big prizes adding extra excitement to every visit.”

The total cash amount given away in the past six months at Montecasino through large scale promotions, the Take a Chance promotion, Blackjack tournaments, poker tournaments and jackpot pay-outs, is just over R33 million. R15 270 974 in the form of casino FreePlay, while close on 10 000 complimentary theatre tickets were issued to our valued guests, at a cost of R 2 310 575. During this period the footfall in the precinct was 4 724 744 people and in the casino 2 659 751 people proof that Montecasino truly is the place to be!

American athlete Mia Hamm put winning in perspective: “The person who said winning isn't everything, never won anything.” Winning definitely beats losing as an experience and Montecasino keeps its players coming back again and again because they know they stand an excellent chance of winning.
