Ministry of Rural Development and Land Reform Policy & Budget Speech 2012

Deputy Minister
Lechesa Tsenoli

The resolution of the 52nd National Conference of the ANC in Polokwane, in December 2007, on agrarian change, land reform and rural development resulted in the establishment of the department of Rural Development and Land Reform. The Department has since then made tremendous strides in delivering on its mandate.

Amongst others, under the land acquisition programme:

- The Department has acquired some 848

farms totalling 882 238 hectares;

- Land claims totalling 835 were finalized by the commission on Restitution of Land Rights;
- A total of 4 428 females and 3 756 youth benefited from the above programme;
- Distressed farms have been recapitalized to the value of more than R142m;
- The Department has been able to realign the commission on Land Restitution to respond to challenges of restitution, these include the appointment of the first black woman, as Chief Land Claims Commissioner.

Under our Comprehensive Rural Development Programme, we have been able to revitalize rural villages and small rural towns such as Witzenburg in the Western Cape. We are also making impact in rural infrastructure development, one good example is the R123 million Nelson Mandela Legacy Bridge at Mvezo in the Eastern Cape.

We have trained around 10 000 rural youth across the country in various skills such as Carpentry and Bricklaying through a National Rural Youth Service Corps [NARYSEC] programme.

In bringing communities together, we have to date established 52 Councils of Stakeholders throughout the country to enable them to take charge of their own destiny.
